How confident do you feel in your personal tutoring role? In the face of ever-increasing and demanding learner issues, do you feel equipped to provide the essential support to meet their needs? These timely books provide you with essential help in an area which has often been given little attention in comparison with curriculum delivery by:

- contextualising the support side of a teacher's role within further education;
- looking beyond conventional notions of personal tutoring and coaching;
- appreciating the real world applications of issues;
- recognising the benefits personal tutoring and coaching bring to learners and educational institutions;
- reflecting on a variety of different approaches to support learners' achievement as well as positively affecting institutional key performance indicators.

They provide proven practical advice and guidance for planning and delivering group tutorials, undertaking one to ones, identifying and managing vulnerable learners and those at risk of not achieving, as well as helping learners to progress onto their chosen career paths. It explores methods to engage the most disaffected and hard to reach learners, as well as stretching and challenging the more able.

The third book, "The Higher Education Personal Tutor's and Advisor's Companion: Translating Theory into Practice to Improve Student Success", provides contributions from 50 practitioners from across the sector, this text examines the key themes, theories and concepts relevant to personal tutors and academic advisors and translates these into real-world practice. Case study narratives from a range of settings demonstrate how student learning and outcomes can be improved, and related critical thinking activities encourage reflection on how these learnings can be applied in specific contexts. The book provides invaluable insights and support for all personal tutors and academic advisors, enabling practitioners to learn from each other, develop innovative ideas, and feel part of a community of learning.
